Introduction

Overview of AnyTech365

Business Model

Business Overview

The company offers subscription-based Technical Support as Service ("TSaaS") covering everything from IoT home devices to PC and software related issues. Customers are acquired entirely through in-bound calls generated through partnerships with large tech vendors who refer their customers to the company. After solving the callers' IT challenge, 21% of these are then turned into a subscriber with an average lifetime of 47 months (incl. Retention). The company shares the first order revenue with partners turning vendor support from cost center to revenue generator.

Attractive Market

Why TSaaS

- IT devices and software bought for the home are getting more complex while IT is becoming increasingly vital for society. Internet banking and the massive amounts of sensitive data online makes cybersecurity a bigger concern. These trends create a market for a one-stop-source that can secure the consumer and ease everyday life when tech issues occur.
- To ensure customers are receiving reliable and trusted support services as well as ensuring customer privacy, we pay great attention on governance and compliance with a dedicated in-house governance and compliance team.

Profitable Growth Path

The company was established on a great foundation

- The company is now ready to scale and further improve profitability.
- In 2022, we commenced roll-out of a new partnership arrangement with Media Markt which will see 107 stores in Spain staffed with AnyTech365 personnel providing in-store technical support with up-selling of TSaaS with an annual targeted revenue of EU30m once completed.
- AnyTech365 is poised to enter into contracts with Media Markt subsidiaries in Italy as well as Germany, Austria and Switzerland for targeted operations by 2023 and 2024 respectively.

Notes: *Based on 65% non-deferred revenue

Average Lifetime Value of USD 281 per customer

An average customer generates USD 281 during the average subscription period of 47 months (including Retention period)

Renewal subscription plans drive profits in the future as they contribute 84% of the life-time-value of a customer

- Re-subscriptions are not subject for revenue share with partners and is the main reason for the high profit contribution.
- Renewing customers have only been part of the business model in approx. one year, and thus:
  - Expectation of much higher profit margins in the future
  - Possible to improve the renewal strategy further with automatic renewal strategies and a specialized renewal team

An average customer is a subscriber for two consecutive subscription periods corresponding to 47 months.

- IoT

89%

Subscribing to at least one subscription service

130 EUR

Monthly average household spend on subscriptions in Europe

5%

Of total household consumption in Europe is spend on subscriptions

Competition drives margins down and support is a cost

Vendors are obliged to offer technical support which is associated with costs

- Support is time consuming and typically not considered value adding for vendors.
- Margins are already under pressure for many hardware retailers.
- Vendors make careful online support guides to avoid calls.

Customer issues are complex and non-vendor related

Vendors are typically specialized within own products

How organizations can improve the product experience:

Customer centricity is essential

86% of customer would pay more for products that provides them a better service

Current vendor tech support

- Often non-centric chat-bot or online-manual experience
- Obligated to help, not actively seeking to help
- Technical support is not the sole focus and support areas are limited
- Often availability is limited

Forward Looking Strategy

About Media Markt

- The company was founded in 1979 and today is Europe's largest electronic retailer with more than 1000 stores in 13 countries. Company's annual revenue is approximately USD 23 billion.

AnyTech365 and Media Markt Spain

- In December 2021, AnyTech365 entered into a 4-year partnership agreement with Media Markt Saturn Administración España, S.A.U ("MM") whereby AT would position 2 technical personnel at each of MM's 106 stores in Spain to provide on-site technical support to customers. In return AnyTech365 would be able to upsell its TSaaS services. Similar to other partnership arrangements, MM shall receive 40% rev share for each new subscription with no revenue shared when the customer renews their subscription.
- Once completed and rolled-out to all 107 stores, this arrangement is expected to generate revenue of ~EU31m annually. We believe this is a conservative forecast as it has only taken into consideration new sign-ups i.e., does not take into consideration renewals and other programs that MM plans to deploy in the near future.

Media Markt Europe

- AnyTech365 is currently under contract negotiations with MM for a similar arrangement for its 113 stores in Italy with a target roll-out to commence by January 2023.
- MM Management has also expressed interest in expanding this business model to Germany, Switzerland and Austria which has approx. 347 stores by 2024.

Potential for AnyTech365

- TAM (Total Addressable Market): Services based revenue of Media Markt's total annual revenue base is 5.2% (USD 1.2 billion).
- Of that we aim for 25% i.e., USD 300 million annual revenue for all MM markets (Spain: USD 30m, Italy: USD 33m, Germany: USD 85m, rest of EU: USD 152m); subject to contracts per country to be achieved.

Future profitability | Expanding our partnership with Media Markt

Use the successful model of BestBuy Inc and GeekSquad from the US market, and make it even better for Europe

There is currently more demand than we can supply

Media Markt is our key retail partner to grow the business in 2022 and onwards. Media Markt is the biggest electronics supplier in Europe. Our contract with them allows us to have multiple campaign formats for their new and old customers. This is similar to the model GeekSquad deploys with BestBuy Inc in the US market. Media Markt management is supportive of this partnership as they strongly believe in a services-based revenue streams. We have listed below potential campaigns and typically these campaigns are based on leads generation by Media Markt to AnyTech365's Remote Support teams. We convert the generated leads into our paying subscribers and share the revenue partially with Media Markt.

List of potential campaign formats / models:

- In-store campaigns with 2 of our own salespersons 5 days per week promoting
- AnyTech365 subscriptions
- Software activations and installations
- Hardware repairs in-store, lead generation to Remote support
- New customer registrations (all Media Markt sales)
- Smartphone / tables / computer setup
- Mobile operator subscription sales at Media Markt supported by tech support subscription
- Online Sales via their own online channels
- Club member / Newsletter promotions
- Device & gadget insurance & warranty sales with tech support option

The biggest focus is currently on Spain. Next phase is the additional EU territories where they operate, they have 13 countries in total. Which brings a total potential annual revenue base close to USD 300 million for our services. We have forecast data to support these numbers, based on the pilot projects we have done with them in 2021, with validated KPIs and financial modelling.
